All business houses were closed during the hour, in respect to the deceased one, after which the remains were taken to the depot to be sent to Ravenwood, Missouri. May God bless the bereaved ones.

SMITH.—Mrs. Arthur Smith died at her home in Knobnoster, Missouri, February 17, 1909. For over a year she had been confined to her home, and patiently awaited the end. She was married to A. V. Smith, November 24, 1869. Of them were born two children who have passed before her to the great beyond. She is survived only by her grief-stricken husband. She was a member of the Reorganized Church and a faithful follower of her Master. Funeral at Saints' church, J. R. Sutton in charge; sermon by J. E. Bozarth.

The intelligent medical men and sociologists of continental Europe are fully alive to the danger [of the general use of light wines—the "continuous bibbing of diluted alcohol"], and are doing all they can to call serious attention to it. Thus the man who holds up continental practices to our emulation is lacking in the knowledge of the actual state of things. In spite of all, fortunately for France and the rest of the wine-producing countries of Europe, the temperance movement is gaining ground, and popular sentiment is being aroused against the use of intoxicants.—From "The truth about wine-drinking countries," by Matthew Woods, M. D., in the Sunday School Times.
