This picture shows the ruins of the Liberty Jail, Clay County, Missouri, where Joseph Smith and others were confined from December 1, 1838 to April 6, 1839, and where the present President of the Church, Joseph, the eldest son of the Martyr, was blessed by him when a boy. This picture was taken in February, 1897. President Joseph Smith sits uppermost on the ruins of the stone wall, Elder J. W. Brackenbury (now deceased) to his right and Elder S. Maloney (also now deceased) at his left. Seated at the extreme corner to their left sits the present presiding Patriarch of the Church, Pres. Smith's brother, Alexander H. Smith. Standing just around the corner is Elder F. C. Wornley, whose camera took the original of this picture and by whose courtesy we came in possession of it.

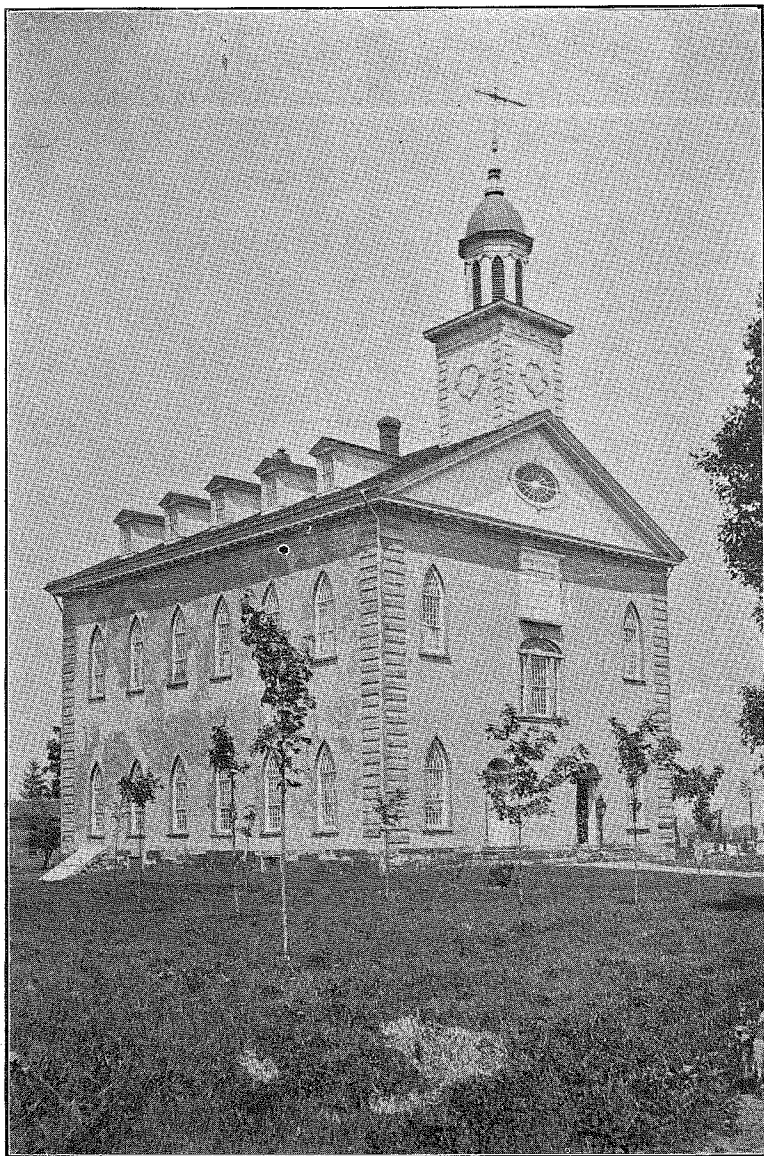

The famous "Carthage Jail" in which Joseph and Hyrum Smith were imprisoned just prior to their assassination. The open window in the illustration is said to be the one from which Joseph leaped at the time he was shot.
